

FULVIO VOLPI

PROFILE

I have a multidisciplinary skill set that integrates creative knowledge with technical and graphic expertise. My field ranges from industrial Product Design to Interaction, passing through my passion for Graphic Design which I have transformed into a full-time profession. Interviews, scenarios and user persona are the basis every work I tackle, design thinking approach is what I apply to solve and analyze every project and graphic design is what I use to convey my work in the most useful, usable and pleasant way. I had the pleasure to work with different companies and entrepreneurs and help solve their problems by using a design thinking approach during the process. I'm a designer always eager to face new challenges and opportunities, adaptable and comfortable in working in multicultural environments.
